

Declaration of data protection CST Stanztechnik GmbH

Thank you for your interest in our online presentation. The protection of your personal data is very important to us. At this point, we would like to inform you about the data protection in our company. Of course, we comply with the legal regulations of the German Federal Data Protection Act (BDSG). In the German Telemedia Act (TMG) and other data protection provisions.

With regard to your personal data, you can rely on us. They are encrypted through digital security systems and transmitted to us. Our websites are protected by technical measures against data damage, data devastation or unauthorized access.

Subjects of data protection

The subject matter of data protection is personal data. According to § 3 Section 1 BDSG, this data is individual information about the personal and factual circumstances of a specific or specifiable natural person. This includes e.g. information such as name, postal address, e-mail address or phone number, but also, if applicable, usage data such as your IP-address.

Scope of data collection and data storage

For the use of our website, it is, in general, not necessary to provide personal data. However, we may need your personal data, if applicable, in order to actually render our services. This applies to both the mailing of information material or ordered goods and the reply to individual inquiries.

If you instruct us to render a service or send goods, we, in principle, collect and store your personal data only to the extent necessary to ensure the rendering of the service or the execution of the contract. This may require transmitting your personal data to companies that we deploy for the service or the winding-up of the contract. This includes e.g. transport companies or other service providers.

After complete winding-up of the contract, your data is blocked and, after expiry of the regulations under fiscal and commercial law, deleted, provided that you have not explicitly agreed to a further use of the data.

Collection and storage of usage data

In order to optimize our website, we collect and store data, such as e.g. date and time of the page view, the page from which you have accessed our site, and the like. This is done anonymously, without identifying the user of the site personally. If applicable, user profiles are created by means of a pseudonym. Even here, no connection is made between the natural persons behind the pseudonym with the user data collected.

Assigned data use

We adhere to the principle of the assigned data use and collect, process and store your personal data only for the purposes for which you have communicated them to us. Your personal data is not transmitted to third parties without your explicit approval, provided that this is not necessary for the rendering of the service or the winding-up of the contract. Transmission to government institutions and authorities entitled to receive information also only takes place within the scope of the statutory obligations to furnish information, or if we are under an obligation to furnish information by virtue of a court order.

We further take company internal data protection matters very seriously. Our employees as well as those of external service companies are obliged not to divulge any personal data and to act according to data protection provisions.

Right to information and right of withdrawal free of cost, you have access to all your data stored by us at any time without giving reasons. At any time, you have the possibility of blocking, correcting or deleting your data which we collected. Furthermore, you may revoke the consent you have given us concerning the collection and use of data at any time and without giving any reason. For this purpose, please contact the address stated in the imprint. If you have any further questions on our advices on data protection and the processing of your personal data, please do not hesitate to contact us at any time.

Please note that data protection provisions and handling on data protection may change. Therefore, it is advisable and required to regularly gather information on changes of the legal requirements and the practice of companies.
